

My brief journey with 18twenty8 has been a humbling experience that has not only reminded me that no one ever toils in vain but has also shown me the importance of community by providing me a network of people with whom I can share my adventure. Most importantly, their financial assistance has brought some of my aspirations to realisation as I was able to complete my degree and continue with my studies. I hope to continue learning from them as I walk with them.